MINI PRESENTATIONS ABOUT CAMPUS LIFE!

4:15-5:00 PM

SESSION DETAILS

Presentation & Location	Description
Maximizing Your Co-Curricular Experience!  Mergenthaler 111	Do you want to learn how to get involved projects, programs, events, and activities outside the classroom? If so, the LEED office sponsors several ways to get involved and impact the campus community. From SGA to The HOP to Fraternity and Sorority Life, the LEED office has a place for your co-curricular experience.
Designing Your First Year at Hopkins  Remsen 101	Wondering what you can do with your major? Should you find a research opportunity? How do you update your High School resume? If you have any of these questions, and more, GREAT! You're not alone. Come to the Life Design Lab to begin designing your Hopkins journey. We'll introduce you to the design thinking process and the tools and resources that the Life Design Lab has to offer at Johns Hopkins University.
Freshman Fellows Info Session  MSE Library, Macksey Seminar Room	Learn all about Freshman Fellows, an amazing paid research opportunity (hello $1,000!) available exclusively to first-year students! Students accepted into the program conduct original research with super-rare books and manuscripts, and receive mentoring from Special Collections staff. Meet the mentors, learn about this year's fabulous research projects, and see some of the rare materials you can work with!
Welcome to the Digital Media Center  Digital Media Center	Learn about all the resources the DMC has to offer! Get a tour of our lab which includes 3D printers, large-format photo printers, vinyl cutting, audio recording facilities, equipment checkout and VR gaming space. Everyone who attends will become a member and be able to start using the DMC's free resources immediately
Privilege of Relationships with Thread  Krieger 170	Listen to a series of thought-provoking statements modeled after a traditional "privilege walk"--but this "walk" is done personally and provides individual participants with an opportunity to reflect on the relationships they have (and don't have). This session prompts personal and group reflections on the role of social capital in our lives and how those with many relationships have a thriving network of people who are there to help build self-determination and support when barriers to personal goals arise.
Living & Learning in Baltimore with Baltimore Colleetown  Gilman 132	Welcome to Baltimore! New to the city or new to the area? We've got you covered. You can learn more about Baltimore as a city, a college town, and a great place to live. We will share information on neighborhoods, and resources in Baltimore, along with some of our staff picks on things to do, see, and eat. So bring your curiosity and your questions - there is a lot to learn!
Getting Started in Research  Imagine Center	We know that many undergrads choose Hopkins because of access to the world class research happening here. Learn how to get started, including the Who, What, When, Where and How for all things Undergraduate Research!
